

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The REGISTER begins another serial story with this issue. See inside pages.

"Mike Dodson," after a wearisome silence, comes to the front again this week.

Tunnel No. 3, on Pilot Knob, was lighted by electricity for the first time last Saturday morning.

Col. J. Eges Cowan, of St. Louis, was in Ironton, Monday. He went from here to Fredericktown Tuesday morning.

A broken axle on a box-car dented a freight train near Middlebrook last Friday morning. Beyond delay, no serious loss resulted.

Miss Betta Myers who went to Bismarck the Saturday previous, returned on Tuesday of last week, accompanied by her aunt and cousin, Mrs. Henry Myers and daughter.

The young ladies at the college are counting all the white horses that pass by. Now, we'd like to know, you know, what they mean by that? They began on New-Year.

Mr. Searle has returned from Marquand, and is now bossing a gang of men on Cedar Hill. He is one of the most efficient men on the works, and, withal, a thorough gentleman.

The railroad company last year paid eighteen hundred dollars school-tax in Iron county—an average of forty cents on the hundred dollars' valuation of all their property.

Steve B. Fraser, whilom telegraph operator at this place, and for the past two years at Delta, has been transferred to the main line, with headquarters at Pilot Knob—Cape Girardeau News.

Prof. Russell's lecture, last Thursday evening, was not largely attended, owing, no doubt, to the blizzard that was raging at the time. The lecture was good, and those who were present commend it highly.

Lent came in with Ash Wednesday, and since then the editor, though not a strict churchman himself, has been living principally on fish-balls. These, we believe, are the only balls allowed in the Lenten season.

Tom Holland, fireman on the pusher, is lying sick at the Ironton House. A few days ago his condition was considered serious, but at present he is on the mend. Tom is a good boy, and we trust he will soon be on his feet again.

The following gentlemen were in attendance on county court this week: Messrs. Kemper, Maddock, Chas. H. Collins and Clever Collins, from Des Arc; Wm. Lewis, Annapolis; Jno. S. Luthy, Edge Hill; Robt. Holloman and D. M. Vickery, Hogan.

Coleman Hill is building a livery stable on the lot opposite the Ironton House. It is after the usual Hill pattern—not much for style, but serviceable, we presume. As the countryman irreverently expressed it, "Not very pretty for handsome, but — for strong!"

From the Western Rambler, published at Piedmont, we learn that "James H. Chase, Register of the Land Office at Idaho, was in town last week." Mr. Chase must be ubiquitous. That means, Bro. Salzer, that he spreads himself over a good deal of territory, "all tu wunst."

Geo. F. Hamel, R. P. Decker, D. Baer, J. M. Bracey, Jr., Jas. A. Cain, Gus. Martin and Dr. G. A. Auerswald accepted an invitation to a leap year party at Ironton, last Monday night, and they returned well pleased with the kind treatment they met with at the hands of the young ladies of Ironton.—De Soto Watchman.

We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation to Hon. Thos. Holladay's china wedding at Fredericktown on the 8th inst. We regret that we are unable to attend, but we want to throw our hearty congratulations, and hope he and his better-half may live twice twenty years longer in the enjoyment of wedded felicity.

The young ladies having the arrangement of the "Box Social," to be held in the Academy of Music Thursday evening, have arranged to provide a good supper, which may be had at a moderate price, between the hours of five and nine o'clock. Business men and all others are invited to call and partake.

Clear sky—north wind—clouds—south wind—snow—west wind—sunshine—south wind—clouds—north wind. Here is epitomized the weather changes of last Sunday, between dawn and evening twilight. For variety, our weather clerk, in the language of "the Judge," takes not only the cake but the whole bakery—including the wagon at the front door.

Jno. S. Luthy, roadoverseer of district No. 3, came into town Monday prepared to settle with the county court, as also, did Judge Kemper, of Des Arc, and others whom we have not seen as yet. They report their roads in tolerably fair condition—much better than they were a few weeks since—and say that a comparatively small amount of work will put them in excellent trim.

Jno. Schwab, Jr., is now sole proprietor of the Ironton Manufacturing Company's mill, he having last Monday bought the interest of F. Katha, Esq. The trade had been on the tapis for some time, and consequently surprises the public very little. Mr. Schwab is a live business man, who has the good-will of everybody, and will not let the good name of the Company suffer under his future exclusive administration.

Bro. Harris, of the Piedmont Leader, last week referred to February 14th as "ground-hog day." We are surprised to find one of the "art preservative" so deficient in meteorological knowledge. February 2d is the date whereupon the we're-bound-to-have-meat rodent ventures forth from his hibernating quarters and dares the uncertain rays of a winter sun obliquely projected—and don't you forget it!

A little excitement stirred up the citizens in the vicinity of the courthouse square, Monday evening about nine o'clock. A fire in Geo. Schmitt's saloon burned out, with a blaze that lighted up the surroundings, and the shower of sparks attending would have been voted well up in pyrotechnics if the folks hadn't been too badly scared to appreciate the display. A few pounds of salt thrown into the stove soon smothered the fire.

Local matter on the opposite page.

The Williams Dramatic Company again passed down the road last Sunday, bound for Arkansas. They had originally intended going down there the week after leaving here, but high water barred further progress than Poplar Bluff, and they consequently went up the road to Montgomery City. After a week there the company returned to De Soto and gave two entertainments, Saturday afternoon and evening. Thence south.

The work at Marquand has not stopped, as has been stated, but is still going on in the way of sinking shafts. Plenty of good hematite ore has been developed, but as it contains more or less phosphorous, it is not desirable for the special brand of iron the Company is making just now at Pilot Knob. For this reason the amount being raised is not large. In the future full advantage will probably be taken of the extensive developments made in the last few months.

Last Saturday afternoon we were surprised—most pleasantly—by a present of a basket of doughnuts, from the fair hands of Mrs. Kate Scoville. Doughnuts, of her own making and baking, too; needless, therefore, it is to asseverate that they were ne plus ultra. We ate them and enjoyed them, nor did they develop any dispeptic symptoms in the donee—positive proof of their being all that doughnuts should. Mrs. Kate, our best regards; but for goodness sake don't tell Frank we told you so!

We learn that the estate of G. W. Gibson, who was killed at Arcadia on the 25th of January has been placed in the hands of the public administrator of this county. It appears, after all, that the deceased was not the son of Judge Miller, of Lexington, Ky., and his identity has never been proven. The only effects turned over to the administrator were a certificate of deposit in the De Soto City Bank for five dollars, and a "keep-sake." The latter article consisted of the profile of a child's hand cut in paper. On one side is sewed or "tacked" a small plate of light yellow hair; on the reverse is written, "Rosa's hand and hair."

Articles of incorporation were filed in Jefferson City on the 22d ult., for the Mill Spring, Current River and Barnesville railroad—narrow-gauge. The incorporators are W. S. McMullan and Daniel Goetel, of Oil City, Pa., 73 shares each; Wm. H. Morris, Ironton, 2 shares; and Clark McLae and Ambrose Martindale, one share each. One thousand dollars per share. The road is 30 miles long and will leave the St. Louis, I. M. & S. at Mill Spring and runs through Wayne, Carter and Reynolds counties, to Barnesville and open up a vast area of heavily timbered country. It is said that work on it will be begun within a short time.

Prof. Andrews will give four entertainments in the Academy of Music, beginning next Monday evening. Here is what the News, Marshall county, Mo., says of him: "Prof. Andrews gave exhibitions, at Watson's Hall, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week, to crowded audiences, who were highly pleased with the entertainments. The Professor is a remarkably fine ventriloquist and slight-of-hand performer, while his educated birds are really wonderful. No better show has ever visited our city, and we hope he will again favor us, at no distant day, with a visit."

W. H. Delano, Esq., at present employed in straightening out matters at the Company store in Crystal City, came down on the Accommodation last Saturday evening. A bridal party accompanied him as far as De Soto, in quest of the proper officer to perform the marriage ceremony. The groom was a Frenchman, and could not speak a word of English. The bride could speak no French. An interpreter was therefore brought along, and was the medium for their conversation as they sped over track and tie to the place where the knot was tied—graciously to the edification of the other passengers. Whether the courting was done by mutual proxy, our informant does not state, and probably doesn't know.

Ed. Heffers and Andrew Groshoff, charged with petit larceny, were arrested by Constable Patton on the 20th of February, and lodged in jail. Their trial was continued from time to time, until the morning of the 3d inst., when a full hearing resulted in their conviction. Heffers was committed in default of payment of costs and fine amounting to $42.65. Groshoff's fine of $20 was reduced to $5, owing to ameliorating circumstances, making his muletire amount to $27.65, which he paid and was released. The offence consisted of stealing a shotgun from the dwelling of Henry Eilsman, of Pilot Knob. A third party—said to be the principal in the affair—Otto Heffers, slid out before he could be apprehended, and we presume is still sliding. May he slide on.

Elsewhere we publish a note of complaint against a gentleman in this community, by whom we have stood, through thick and thin, for many a day; but in this instance he will have to stand up for himself. There are lengths to which we may not go, even to serve a friend of twenty-five years' standing. Neither will the editor "express his mind about it," even at the request of so justly incensed a correspondent; he has too many kind remembrances of a consistently friendly past, to immediately, and upon a sudden, as it were, lay the cudgel on the delinquent's back as the case seems to call for. We simply let go all hold, and leave Judge Emerson to defend himself.—If defense is possible.

So much (no more) a friend may claim. As truth and justice can bestow; All this we'll freely render him—No worthy friend could further go.

Last Friday morning two freight trains, coupled together, with the "pusher" behind started up the heavy grade on Hogan, coming north. The pusher shoved so hard that it pushed the engine of the rear train clear through the caboose and into a box-car on the forward train! The caboose and box caught fire and burned up, and the remainder of the train was saved only because it was uncoupled from the burning cars and run to a safe distance. The engine was a beautifully dilapidated machine when it was finally extricated. The smoke-stack was knocked off, the headlight demolished, and the whole front of the engine was wrinkled by the heat and battered clear out of countenance. The smoldering remains of the wreck were speedily removed, and the road made clear for the passage of the trains.

The No-Name Society will meet at Mrs. Scoville's this (Wednesday) afternoon.

So far as can be determined at this time, wheat in Iron county appears to be looking well. It has deep root, is of healthy color, and was not hurt to any appreciable extent by "the fly" last fall. In Bellevue, M. F. Lowe, Esq., informs us, a larger acreage is now growing than in any former year. On Marble Creek, Messrs. W. H. Matkin and S. G. Shular say it looks promising, but that the acreage is not large. Here in the Valley, Judge Russell says the outlook is also good. While we have had a very severe winter, the long-lying snows protected the more lightly-rooted plants, so that none of them have been "spewed up." Mr. C. C. Lashley, of Flatwoods, says in his section wheat has, up to the present, looked very well; but the weather now—thawing and freezing alternately, with no snow on the ground to serve as a protection—is not favorable. Still, no great damage has yet resulted. Altogether, the indications are excellent for a generous yield.

We regret to learn of an accident at Iron Mountain last Friday, which resulted in serious loss to the Seitz Merchandise Company of Middlebrook. The wagon belonging to that Company, drawn by the ponies known so well to the folks hereabouts, went up that morning to deliver goods to customers. While there the team became frightened and ran away, and both ponies were so injured that they were killed as an act of mercy. The driver had jumped off the wagon and was in the act of taking out a package, when the horses started off. He tried to get hold of the lines, but fell down and missed them. As soon as the team found there was no one behind them they quickened their speed into a furious gallop. An ox-wagon loaded with iron was on the road in front of them, and they ran into it—one of the horses jumping clear on top of the wagon. One of the forelegs was caught in the wheel and broken. The other horse held back, and the wagon behind ran on to him, breaking a hind leg. The driver was not hurt.

Under the present law, all property school taxes are paid in cash, and cannot be worked out, as under the old statute. The new law went into practical effect last year for the first time, and, since taxes are generally paid late in the fall and winter, the roadoverseers—deprived of the authority to call out men to work the roads—have been rather "short." It is true the court advanced some money out of the general fund—the law authorizing them to do that to an amount not to exceed three-fourths of all taxes levied for road purposes. But, for obvious reasons, the sum so advanced was not great, and the bulk of road taxes are yet on hand. The court this week will apportion the different funds, and the road fund will no doubt be large enough to enable overseers to put and keep their districts in fair condition during the coming year. But the levy for this purpose is not large enough, and we suggest that the court seriously consider the question of making it, say, 25 cents on the hundred dollars. This may be the more readily done, since the levy for other purposes will be greatly reduced. Money can never be spent to greater advantage than in the building good roads and keeping them in first-class condition.

In this paper we publish a card from Mrs. M. I. Moser. She leaves to-day for Oakdale, Nebraska, where she will make her future home. One by one, the ranks are thinning out, and when we look at the many vacant lines on memory's roll, once filled with the names of cherished friends now gone—some to "the other shore," and some to new fields of toil and venture—we feel the full force of that law in nature which demands eternal change. Nothing is ever quiescent; and human life seems doomed to the maximum infliction of the inevitable decree. Every one of us is a Wanderer Jew, and there is no rest for the soles of our feet: not until cometh that rest which endureth forever. There is compensation, no doubt; new friends take the place of the old; spring blossoms the flowers of autumn; and new goals are to be striven for. Yet we, as the years pile atop of each other, regret, more and more, to chronicle the departure of a form made—we will say it—made dear through years of social intercourse and neighborly acquaintance. With these expressions, which we are sure reflect the feelings of her many friends and acquaintances, we bid Mrs. M. farewell, and trust that she may find in her new home all that is desirable in life.

I. B. Headlee, of Caledonia, sends a "card" to the Potosi Independent, the only effect of which, so far as we can see, will be to give increased publicity to "family troubles," which else might have been hedged within the bonds of village clashes. This is the card:

Inasmuch as the society of Caledonia and surrounding country has been in a ferment for some time in regard to Mrs. S. McSpadan and myself, and many false reports circulated, I deem it an act of justice to her to state publicly, that so far as I know she is a perfect lady; that I esteem and respect her as such, while I emphatically say her deportment towards myself has been nothing to injure her character as a true and virtuous woman.

Mrs. Headlee has retracted the things which she admits having said through an unreasonable jealousy and suspicion, and which have contributed so much to the affair. I am again at home where we propose and hope to be permitted to adjust our own troubles, and attend to our own business.

Now, no person who reads the above will deny that he or she would like to know what it's all about; and we'll venture right here that more than one letter will be dispatched from a distance to some friend in the neighborhood of the strife, asking for a bill of particulars. Family troubles are bad enough if kept home; but—sowing them broadcast through the columns of a newspaper will neither quiet them down, nor—practically—amend the hurt of a slandered reputation.

There is no use in drugging yourself to death, and buying all the vile medicines for internal use when you can be cured of fever and ague, dumb ague, bilious disorders, jaundice, dyspepsia, as well as all disorders and ailments of the liver, blood and stomach, by wearing one of prof. Guilmette's French Liver Pads, which is a sure cure every time. If your druggist does not keep the pad, send $5 in a letter to French Pad Co., Toledo, O., and it will be sent you by return mail. It is the only Pad that is guaranteed to cure. Beware of counterfeits.

A CARD.

E. D. AKE, Esq., Publisher "Register:"
SIR—The ladies of Ironton under whose management the late leap-year ball was conducted, respectfully ask the privilege of expressing through your paper their thanks to their friends who so generously assisted them therein; and take this method to specially thank Mrs. T. S. Lopez, Mr. Herman Davis and you for kind favors which ensured the success of the entertainment.

Very Respectfully,
THE COMMITTEES.

To the People of the Valley.

As I am about to leave the beautiful little city of Ironton for a home "in the west," I wish to thank my patrons and friends for their liberal patronage, and many kind favors. Days of pleasure and sorrow have been spent among you, and I shall often think of this lovely valley and its good people. How eagerly I will look for the REGISTER, so fraught with news and good cheer! Hoping to find the death-roll shortened, and peace and prosperity abounding, I take my departure with naught but good-will toward all.

ISABEL MOSER.

That Affray at Des Arc.

DES ARC, March 2d, 1884.
Ed. Register—Seeing in your issue of the 25th a false representation of an affray that took place at Fitz's mill, I wish to correct it. If Uncle Wiley wants a compromise, he never named it to me. He might have told "Citizen" that he would like a compromise, for a man said to me that it would be better to compromise. This might have been "Citizen." If so, he should have told me what Uncle Wiley would do. I would have answered him, thus saving him from guessing at something of which he knew nothing. As for Lashley's vengeance, "Citizen" must take that to himself; for Lashley never gave word nor deed for such assertion.

If Uncle Wiley doesn't want out of this, he's the first man I ever saw attempt to kill a man and not get out as easy as possible.

GEORGE W. LASHLEY.

A Serious Complaint Against Judge Emerson.

CALEDONIA, Feb. 24th.
MR. E. D. AKE:
Dear Sir—Several of our young ladies have a very great grievance to make known to you against Judge Emerson of your city.

It is that of a want of gallantry. You may hardly believe this against so polite and gracious a gentleman, may be, but now you see. At the close of his brilliant lecture here on the evening of Washington's Birthday, after being thanked and complimented much, he came to the front of the stage and said he could only give the gentlemen his thanks, the ladies his love, and to the pretty little girls (he was very particular about the size of the girls) he threw a kiss, and—well, this partiality is the ground of our complaint. We appeal to you. Now, was it not a little mite wanting in gallantry in him, to limit his parting gift to the pretty little girls? Please express your mind about it.

Yours truly,
A PRETTY LARGE GIRL.
